Dear Parent,

What a joyful “week” of school we have shared! Your child should have brought home a white emergency card to be filled out and sent back to me in a timely fashion. Please send all completed forms to me as I check them off as they come in and it helps your child learn responsibility.

I love to read! I am eager to begin independent reading each day with your child. He/she will have a vast assortment of books to choose from our classroom library. We will go to TCS’ library every day 1. I am also enclosing Scholastic book orders if you want to order books for your child. This is optional. Online ordering (see attached paper) is available or send the order into class with your child (sealed envelope with a check made out to Scholastic). These make great birthday/Christmas gifts that we can “hide” from your child.

This summer I sent a Summer Reading Challenge to your child sponsored by Assemblywoman Addie J. Russell. It’s not too late to send the completed form into class so your child can receive a “prize.” I will also send the forms to her so your child can receive his/her certificate. Thank you to those who mailed theirs in already. I’m sure you will receive the certificate soon.

Mrs. Neilson sent a paper concerning music lessons and band. Please read it with your child.

Our curriculum night is Thursday, September 24 at 6:30p.m. I look forward to seeing you. Thank you for helping your child prepare for 5th grade. Thank you for the school supplies. Together, with God as our leader, we will have a joyful learning experience!

Yours in Christ,
Mrs. Borsellino

P.S. Only the Math book needs to be covered with any type of book cover ASAP.
