Mrs. Currier Saves Trinity from School Wide Panic (There is nothing to panic about)

Photos by Mrs. Boyea and Mrs. Currier

"I believe all animals should be given a chance to live and also I strongly dislike mosquitoes so in my eyes they are heroes." says Mrs. Currier. Bats play a crucial part in an ecosystem's survival. Bats' guano or dung is a great fertilizer but it must be handled carefully because it can make people sick. Many people fear bats because they think that bats are around just to spread viruses, they're not. Before you can say you don't like bats, you should study them. Once you can understand them, you should thank them because they do serve a purpose by eating lots of mosquitoes and other insects. There are more than 1,300 bat species. That makes them the second most common group of mammals, after rodents. In fact, around a fifth of all mammals on Earth are bats.

Climate change: Should we be worried? By: Gwen Bero

Everyday we hear about climate change so should we be worried? Some people protest against big oil companies, some people aren't worried and some people think climate change isn't a problem. The facts are if we don't do something about climate change things are going to change, and not for the better. If we don't do something about climate change the temperature is going to rise. 100 years ago it was 1 degree colder. That may not sound like a big deal to most but the hotter the earth, the stronger the natural disasters are like bigger tornados, longer droughts and hotter heat waves. You might think that you can't do anything about climate change, but it's the small things that matter.

The Trickster Leprechaun

A story by: Mia Tarbell

One fine evening my whole class and my teacher were going on a field trip to the nature center. On the way I saw some green boots. Then they disappeared! I thought my mind was just playing tricks on me! We walked a little further but then my friend had to tie her shoes. We walked a little further but then my friend's shoes were untied again! She stopped and tied them again. Then in the corner of my eye I saw a black pot. I guess my mind was not playing tricks on me! My Teacher was up ahead of all of us so she didn't get pranked at all. She was very lucky. Then I heard some giggling in the bushes. I looked in the bushes and I saw a leprechaun! So I said "Is that really a leprechaun? Want to be friends?" The Leprechaun side yes!

What do you think of School Food?

Ms. Augenstein's 5th Grade was asked this question.

By: Kailyn Crump

Madison said, it was delicious. Bo Brencher said, "I love it." Oakley said, it was nice. Jillian said, mostly good. Ella said it was the best food ever. Ms. Augenstein said, "I like it. My favorite food is hot turkey sandwich and mashed potatoes. I myself enjoy most of the food, especially the chicken and mashed potatoes over gravy. Overall, adults and students seem to be enjoying the cafeteria food. Thank you to Ms. Butchino and the other cafeteria staff!

You should watch Sponge Bob!

By Nevada King-Borcellino

Spongebob is a cartoon in which people watch to keep their kids interested and distracted. Spongebob is a fictional character. Spongebob got his name sponge for being a sponge. As you see he wears a suit and tie because he has a job at the Krusty Krab's.

I think this cartoon is also educational for children..

Dogs & What They're Used For

By: Autumn Ruby

Dogs can be used for finding people in rubble or in snow. They can be guide dogs for deaf and blind people but they are a good “man’s best friend”. If you ever meet Milly, a 1-pound chihuahua you have met the world's smallest dog! She is 4 inches tall! If you ever met Zeus, a big great dane, you've met the world’s biggest dog! He’s 3 feet tall but on his hind legs he's 7 feet!!!!

Num Num Cookies- Mic Drop!

By Ava Tarbell

Numnum cookie is a normal cookie. But I like to call it num num cookie. This is the recipe from the Nestle company: 2 ¼ cups all purpose flour 1 tsp. Baking soda 1ts. Salt 1 cap[2 sticks] butter,softened ¾ cup granulated sugar ¾ cup packed brown sugar 1 tsp. Vanilla extract 2 large eggs 2 cups chocolate chips 1 cup chopped nuts.

Preheat oven to 375 degrees F. In a small bowl,combine flour,baking soda And salt in a large mixing bowl,beat butter,granulated sugar,brown sugar and vanilla extract until smooth. Add eggs, then chocolate chips slowly. Drop onto ungreased baking sheets by scooping with a spoon. Bake for 9 - 11 minutes or until lightly brown.Cool and eat!

That is the Num num cookie. Mic drop

Native American Stories

By: Mia Tarbell

The sky woman story

Sky Woman is the Iroquois mother goddess. She fell to Earth from a hole in the sky.. She was a celestial being who was sent away from the heavens. It is said waterbirds carried her down and she landed on the back of a turtle that became home (Turtle Island.) Sky Woman is sometimes called the grandmother of the twin Gods.

The twin gods story

In some Iroquois traditions, the twins are thought to be good and evil. . The two brothers lived together for some time, each making their mark on the world around them. The end of their story, however, the two fought. The good twin won and the bad twin had to live underground.

Kazakhstan

By Bryn Bero

Kazakhstan, unlike Lebanon(the last country that was in the newspaper ) is quite huge! Kazakhstan is 1.052 million miles long. It is the biggest landlocked country in the world and is home to one of the largest lakes. Kazakhstan has 19 million residents and most of the people live in the city of Almaty. Almaty has about 1 million people living there as of 2017,of course that number could have increased because it was so long ago . It would also take you 49 hours to go from Shungay to Arshaty,which are on opposite sides of Kazakhstan.

Culture, languages and fun facts

Kazakhstan has over 131 cultures but some of the most common ones are Kazaks,Russians and Ukrainians. Some different languages are also spoken there too! With so many people you would probably have a good amount of cultures. The two most spoken languages there are Kazakh and Russian.

- The favorite sport of the country is Soccer,also known as football in most places other than the USA.
- Kazakhstan's name means traveler or nomad which is very important to their culture because their
- Kazakhstan's national drink is horse milk
- The average height of kazakh people is 5ft 3in,which isn't very tall
- The most common animal in Kazakhstan is the corsac fox.

Some of the traditional foods include Horse Meat,Mutton,Kurt,Shubat,ShalapTandyr nan,Shelpek,Baursak,Manti and Plov

Why kids should have slime!

By: Zoe Smoke

Parents listen up! You're probably thinking, I would never let my child have slime! It will probably get on the rug, the blanket, the couch or even in the worst place, the HAIR! Dun dun dun!

This is where I come in!

I personally think if you do it right it won't be messy at all! Like keep it at the table. With some rules it doesn't need to be messy.

Some mess is good and slime is fun!

So that is why you should let your kids have slime!

Friends: Chapter 2 - By Sophia Thompson (And Jillian Tibulski)

Okay, we're here, said Erin. Yes I'm so excited, come on Jillian, said Sophia. Let's go. Ugh there's such a long line, said Sophia. I know right how we are going to get ice cream, Jillian said. Finally, now we can get ice cream. Let's go, I'm getting chocolate. Ugh there's such a long line, said Sophia. Hi, what can I get you, said the employee. Hi can I have vanilla ice cream, said Sophia. Sure of course. Can I have chocolate please? Sure I will be right back. I thought you were getting brownie cookie dough sundae I know, but I decided I wanted something simple. Cool, here's your ice cream. Thank you, said the girls. Yum, this is delicious, said Sophia. Yeah this is so good. So do you have a crush, said Sophia. No, you asked Jillian. I don't know. How do you not know, said Jillian. Well know that feeling where you think you like a boy but you don't think you like a boy. No I don't. How do you not know that feeling, said Sophia. Because I'm not weird, said Jillian. Well I'm not weird, are you calling me weird. Yes, said Jillian. Well just so you know I like being called weird, said Sophia. Then that is your new nickname, said Jillian. Okay, but can I have a better one, said Sophia. Sure weirdo Thompson what would you like to be called, said Jillian. Sophia. Ok sophia weirdo thompson.

Please Rescue A Pet!

By: Kaydence Gardner

We are blessed to have animals in the world. The Humane Society says that when you rescue a pet, you're saving a life. The society protects animals from being abused and cruelty from people. Some people move from house to house leaving their pets behind with no food or water, they can freeze to death. When they go to shelters they're scared. Sometimes they get killed there because there's too many animals to look after. Buying from breeders and puppy mills is not good because they're sometimes not nice to the animals. They do it for the money not for the love. The animals could live in really bad kennels and can be very sick and don't see a Doctor. Please go to a shelter and give an animal a second chance at a good life. When we got our rescue puppy we took her to the vet and she got shots so she'll be healthy. Rescuing a pet makes you feel happy and the animal will love you back so much.

Horses and Ponies - By Mary Leggue

Some people think that ponies are baby horses, but there not. Ponies are ponies, horses are horses. Baby horses and ponies are called foals. Baby girls are called fillies, and baby boys are called colts. You can ride them too. It takes a lot of practice. I've been riding for 3 years, and it's one of my favorite things to do in summer. I can go up to a canter when I ride. Horses and ponies love being brushed. My favorite pony at my stable is Holy. Riding is a great way to spend the summer!
